

Transfer Learning for NLP

Transfer learning allows models trained on one task to be reused for another, often with minimal fine-tuning.

In NLP, transfer learning has revolutionized tasks like sentiment analysis, translation, and text summarization.

For example, models like BERT and GPT can be fine-tuned on smaller datasets, saving both time and resources.

This approach has proven to be highly effective when labeled data is scarce.